Answer I just encountered this issue myself. After doing a couple searches I realized that the problem was not my search terms. Instead it was an issue with the Search tab on the Dashboard section. After clicking on the search tab and choosing search, it loaded the search page and simply displayed the error message: "The template could not be found."Q: The code that works in C doesn't work in D, how can I solve the problem? I have this code in C and, when I run it, it returns the number 8 #include int main() { int i, n, sum=0, v; printf("give me a number"); scanf("%d", &i); v=i/2+1; for(i=1;i
